At LCP, the work we do involves assessing the risks associated with future events and advising clients on how much money they should set aside now to be able to cover uncertain payments in the future, and how that money should be invested. What are we looking for?

- + You'll need to be highly numerate with a strong academic record. Beyond that, we're looking for interns with good people skills – team players with the ability to communicate at all levels and a keen interest in the work we do. We take on around 30 interns every year, so it's reassuring to know there will be plenty of other people to share your journey with.
- + We have high hopes for the interns we recruit each year, as ultimately we want them to advance to our graduate trainee programme. Fortunately, there is plenty we can do to support you and we will go out of our way to ensure you get the best experience here with us!

What's it like to work at LCP?

At LCP, we love what we do and it shows. We help our clients make good decisions, based on insightful analysis, industry expertise, and game-changing technology.

We are not so big to have lost the personal touch, yet large enough to offer you experience on a wide range of projects, including advising FTSE 100 and global companies. Providing opportunities for our people and solutions for our clients is at the heart of what we do - developing problem solvers, creative thinkers and future business leaders.

Working in a smaller, specialist firm like LCP means you will not be “just a number” and can really make the most of the opportunities on offer here. From day one you will be valued, actively involved and able to make your own contribution to meeting the needs of our clients.

There's always something going on with plenty of social and sporting events being arranged. It's no coincidence that our London and Winchester offices are both set within reach of the many attractions they have to offer, enabling you to network, socialise and develop your career all at the same time. Work-life balance is very important to us!

We also really enjoy supporting our local communities and regularly get involved with volunteering and fundraising opportunities. There's a real culture of support here at LCP for you to become a part of.

What is being an intern at LCP really like? Meet some of our team.

Working at LCP as an intern was a great experience. People are friendly from day one and there are always activities happening outside of work that anyone can get involved with.

Peter Maile Investment Consulting

After my summer internship at LCP and experiencing the job first-hand I knew LCP was where I wanted to work after I graduated. I really enjoyed the work, but most importantly, it was the friendly and social atmosphere within the workplace which made it impossible for me to say no when I was offered the graduate role at the end of my internship!
