Carter Jonas pathways

Carter Jonas is a multi-disciplinary property partnership, and is one of the largest and most respected property consultancies in the UK. We offer a diverse range of pathways into property, including:

Commercial: Gain experience in commercial areas such as valuation, agency, management, landlord & tenant, development, strategic real estate and inspection.

Rural: Gain hands-on delivery of advising clients on unlocking the value of their assets, diversification, change of land use, rural management and rural surveys.

Infrastructures: Gain experience in environment, commercial, geomatics, minerals & waste management, planning, and rural practices.

Planning: Learn how to navigate the planning system, negotiate with local authorities and communicate with clients for a wide range of development sectors including residential, education, regeneration and infrastructure projects.

Building Surveying: Learn all aspects of the property lifecycle – from the initial acquisition or construction, through to repairs & maintenance, and finally the disposal of the building.

Geospatial: Learn how geospatial data supports the land and property sector, through the use of Geospatial Information Systems, measured building and land surveying.
